For strawberry

or upper Provo River

hearings) that they had a p."

the committee was so
that members told
didn't need to testify
specific location of a
on Nguyen's body,
aid.

nmittee, composed of ad-
ors and two students, had anized to investigate
of harassment brought uong by Hanh Nguyen.
arges were "fabricated"
protect the honor of
nd her husband, Johnson

uyen said again Wednes-er side of the story is the never had affair. He was nd." She said she be-Duong because his family
ive him any attention"
he was more like an older
im.
s supposed knowledge of
rk in an intimate location

ATURES

	High	Low	Prec.
	83	58
	89	57
	87	54
	100	76
	79	45
	77	59
	85	50

tween Duong and the Nguyens on May 3. It states Tuan and Duong got "into an altercation" that resulted in the following injuries to Duong: bruise on the left top forehead, black right eye with blood accumulation on the eye, abrasion and cuts on the right elbow and a muscle injury to the back of the right leg. Duong was taken to McKay-Dee Hospital following the fight, treated and released, the report states.

Hanh Nguyen told police the fight started after Duong walked past a classroom where she and her husband were and called her names. And she said Duong started the altercation by first pushing Tuan.

Duong's version differed. He said in a written statement to his attorney that he was leaving campus and was "chased" by Tuan, who first hit him twice in the back, then began punching him "wildly" in the face. He claimed Hanh helped by holding his arm down.

Wednesday, Hanh Nguyen concluded an interview by saying she and her family are tired of defending her claims against Duong and will not speak about the situation again. "I'm done talking about this. My husband knows truth, my friends and family do. Nothing else matters."

Staff writer Irene Chen contributed to this report.